Let's Start!

How often do you work?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can show interest.
- I can talk about daily routines.
- I can ask who, what, when, where questions.

Ask your partner:

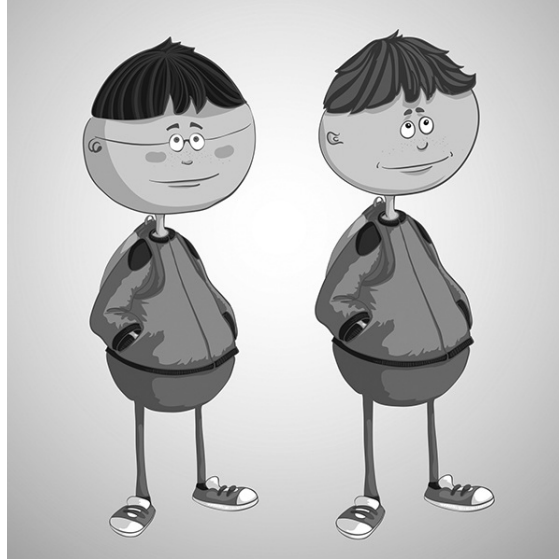

- Do you have a job? What do you do?
- How often do you work?
- Do you work on Saturday? Do you work on Sunday?

Let's Explore!

John and the bus driver talk about their daily routines. What does the driver do every day?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Driver: How do you like Peru?
John: I love it!
Driver: How long are you here for?
John: I work on a cruise ship, so just for a short time.
Driver: Cruise ship?! Sounds glamorous!
John: It's fun, but a lot of hard work. What about your job? Do you like it?
Driver: Yes. I get a chance to meet all sorts of people and learn many things about the world by talking to them.
John: How often do you work?
Driver: Roughly every day. I wake up at 5:30, have my breakfast, drop off my kids at school and then come to get the group.
John: When did you start working for this bus company?
Driver: 30 years ago!
John: Is that right? Amazing!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Expressions to Show Interest

You use these phrases and techniques to show interest and surprise in conversation:

- Use rising intonation (your voice goes up) to show interest.
- Use falling intonation (your voice goes down) to show surprise.
- Use these techniques to keep the conversation going.

Showing Interest	Showing Surprise
Oh?	Wow!
Oh, yeah?	Amazing!
Really?	Get out of here!
Oh, really?	Unbelievable!
Is that right?	No!

Examples:

• John: When did you start working for the bus company?

Driver: 30 years ago!

John: Is that right? Amazing!

Talking About Routines Using the Present Tense

Daily routines are activities you do every day. For example, most people would say the following are part of their daily routine:

- I get up.
- I take a shower.
- I get dressed.
- I eat breakfast.
- I go to work.

Note: When talking about daily routines you use the Simple Present tense.

Examples:

- John doesn't wake up at 5:30 a.m.
- The driver drops off his kids at school.
- I don't work on a cruise ship.
